

For immediate release

Native American Music Award Winning Reggae Band, Innastate, Embarks on an Exciting Pacific Northwest Tour

Santa Fe, NM - September 1, 2023: Innastate, the renowned reggae band from New Mexico's high desert, is embarking on their first Pacific Northwest tour. Their unique brand of indigenous reggae has earned them numerous accolades, making this tour a highly anticipated event for reggae enthusiasts and Innastate fans from the Pacific Northwest. Innastate has dates in Seattle, Portland, and Oakland, Innastate is primed to bring their high energy, vibrant performances to new audiences.

Innastate's Tour Highlights

Seattle: High Dive (9/4/2023)

A Night of Music and Unity

Innastate will kick off their tour at Seattle's High Dive, sharing the stage with talented Native American bands Khu.éex' (Pacific Northwest) and Phoenix-based One Way Sky. This collaboration promises to be a night of musical fusion and unity, as these like-minded artists come together to create an unforgettable experience for their audience.

INNASTATE

Left to right, Adrian Wall (Guitar/Vocals), Romeo Alonzo (Sax/Keys), Rylan Kabotie (Bass/Vocals), Lawrence Bailon (Drums), Mike Davis (trombone/vocals)

Portland: Alberta Abbey (9/8/2023) / Jim Pepper Festival (9/9/2023)

Innastate makes their way to Portland for an exclusive show at the world famous Alberta Abbey, then the Jim Pepper Festival (named after the legendary Native American jazz saxophonist, and celebrates indigenous music, arts, and culture). Innastate will undoubtedly jubilate festival-goers as they pay homage to Jim Pepper's rich musical legacy.

Oakland: Indigenous Red Market (9/10/2023)

The tour's final leg takes Innastate to Oakland's Indigenous Red Market. This vibrant market celebrates indigenous artisans, musicians, and entrepreneurs. Their invigorating music will provide the perfect backdrop for visitors to immerse themselves in the cultural richness of Native American heritage and support local indigenous businesses.

Innastate's Native American reggae is unique: With infectious rhythms and compelling lyrics, their performances create an exhilarating atmosphere filled with positive vibes. Audiences are swept away by their virtuosic sets that inspire both dancing and introspection. Innastate's quick Pacific Northwest tour will be an unforgettable experience for their audiences; The award-winning music will undoubtedly leave them craving more. Innastate invites you to join them on their journey, discover their stories, and connect with attuned individuals in the power of music and community.

For more information contact:

management@innastate.net

Adrian Wall +1 (505) 250-4280 Rylan Kabotie +1 (505) 331-5120

www.innastate.net

###